

"PE-RU-NA WORKED SIMPLY MARVELOUS."

Suffered Severely
With Headaches—
Unable to Work.

Miss Lucy V. McGinley, 453 3rd Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:
"For many months I suffered severely from headaches and pains in the side and back, sometimes being unable to attend to my daily work. 'I am better, now, thanks to Peruna, and am as active as ever and have no more headaches.' 'The way Peruna worked in my case was simply marvelous.' We have in our files many grateful letters from women who have suffered with the symptoms named above. Lack of space prevents our giving more than one testimonial here. It is impossible to even approximate the great amount of suffering which Peruna has relieved, or the number of women who have been restored to health and strength by its faithful use."

LITTLE CHANGE IN BETHLEHEM

Points of Sacred Interest Have Been Well Preserved.

The hills of Bethlehem are full of caves—natural and artificial—and many of them have historic significance. There is the Milk Grotto, in which Joseph and Mary are said to have concealed themselves before their flight into Egypt to escape the evil designs of Herod. The snowy whiteness of the soft chalk out of which it is hewn is ascribed to the spilling of a few drops of the Virgin's milk when she nursed the infant Jesus. Another grotto is pointed out as that in which St. Jerome, for more than thirty years, led the life of a hermit, when bitter factional discussions had forced him to leave Rome.

On a western hill a rock-strewn plateau, around which stately terebinths stand guard, marks a place where the ancient Hebrews brought their sacrifices unto the Lord. It is a solemn place, well fitted to excite devout thoughts—a place where a man might well keep communion with his Maker. In its broader features Bethlehem is almost unchanged since the days of David—From "In Bethlehem," by Frank Cramer, in Four-Track News.

John Milton's Domestic Life.
John Milton was not great in the character of either husband or father. His first wife was disgusted with his gloomy home and soon ran away from him. His daughters were left to grow utterly neglected, and the poet characterized them as "undutiful daughters" in his last will and testament.

Proof of True Love.
A school girl was overheard trying to convince a school fellow that she liked him better than she did some other urchin, of whom he seemed jealous. "Of course, I like you better than I do Bill," she said, "for don't I miss my words in my spelling lesson on purpose, so as to be down at the foot of the class, where you are?"

His Original Idea.
Orrin Case of Winsted, Conn., who is estimated to be worth $100,000, was asked what he intends to do with his money when he comes to die. "Take it with me," he replied, "so if I don't like the place, I can buy my way back."

WOULD NOT PLEASE "FLOSSIE."

That Store Had No Bones Doggie Could Appreciate.

The phone in the office of a downtown establishment devoted to dry goods and various articles of feminine apparel rang sharply and the head bookkeeper responded. The voice he heard was a feminine voice. It was somewhat indignant and it began conversation without preliminaries.

"Those bones you sent up are altogether too large," said the voice. "I told you I wanted small bones. This is my little dog's birthday, and I wanted to give her some nice little bones as a special treat. And here you have sent up some great enormous things only fit for a St. Bernard. My poor Flossie, with her dainty little teeth never could manage them in the world, and she and I are both awfully disappointed."

"I beg your pardon, madam," said the bookkeeper in astonishment, "but I am afraid you have rung up the wrong place. This is not a market, and the only bones we ever send out are the kind that come in corsets."—Providence Journal.

MADE A POOR ADVERTISEMENT.

Thin Man's "Butting In" Disconcerting to Hotelkeeper.

Under the proprietorship of L. S. Drew the old American house at Burlington, was one of the most popular hotels in Vermont and it was the scene of many a humorous episode.

One night after supper Mr. Drew was welcoming a new arrival in the office, when an extremely corpulent guest came out of the dining room. Pointing to the fat man Mr. Drew said: "You see how well we feed our guests. Just look at that man!"

It chanced that a permanent resident of the hotel overheard the remark. This man was extremely thin—just the opposite of the guest referred to by Mr. Drew.

The thin boarder at once spoke up, saying: "Yes, that fat man has been here three days. I have been here thirty years. Look at me!"—Boston Herald.

Daughters of the Revolution.

The general society of the Daughters of the Revolution was organized in the city of New York, Aug. 20, 1891. Eligibility to membership is restricted to "women who are lineal descendants of an ancestor who was a military or naval officer, soldier, sailor or marine in actual service under the authority of any of the thirteen colonies or states, or of the Continental Congress, and remained always loyal to such authority, or descendants of one who signed the Declaration of Independence, or of one who as a member of the Continental Congress, or of the Congress of any of the colonies or states, or as an official appointed by or under the authority of any such representative bodies, actually assisted in the establishment of American independence by serving during the war of the revolution, becoming thereby liable to conviction of treason against the government of Great Britain, but remaining always loyal to the authority of the colonies or states."

A Few First Aid Hints.

The following first aid advice was given by Dr. N. B. Gambrill at a recent meeting of railway surgeons: "Don't put your finger on an open wound; don't put a quid of tobacco on a wound, no matter how small it may be; don't use cowhairs or hornets' nest to stop bleeding; don't dose the patient with whisky, brandy, rum or gin; don't bind or cover a wound with a handkerchief or rag—if you cannot get a first aid packet use clean old muslin that has been dipped in boiling water for a few minutes; don't sit a patient up when he is very pale or weak; don't wash a wound, and don't remove blood clots."

These hints are meant for public instruction for those of the laity who may have occasion to extend first aid in case of accidents.

OTHER TOWNS IN MOURNING

San Francisco Not Alone in Her Sorrow, Many Lives Being Lost and Much Property Destroyed in Other Towns in the Stricken State—San Jose and Santa Rosa Suffer Serious Losses, While Many Patients in Agnew Insane Asylum are Killed—Sacramento, Los Angeles, San Diego Escape.

San Jose, Cal.—Nineteen people were killed in San Jose and the entire business section wrecked. The estimated damage is $5,000,000.

One hundred and ten were killed and several injured, mostly patients, at Agnew asylum. The building is completely ruined.

Stanford university, memorial church and other buildings are down, damage $3,000,000. One student named Hanna and one other man killed.

Damage to Pacific Milling company at Santa Clara $150,000, total loss there half million, no loss of life.

At Goltry about same amount damage, no dead.

At Salinas the Spreckles sugar refinery, valued at $1,500,000, is completely destroyed.

Reports from Del Monte, Hollister, Watsonville, Monterey, Pacific Grove, Santa Cruz and other southern coast points show slight damage in comparison. At Hollister one man killed, $100,000 damage. Narrow gauge tunnel at Wrights, three-quarters of a mile long, caved in.

In Del Monte hotel a bridal couple from Benson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Rouser, killed in bed by chimney falling.

The Moreland academy, a Catholic institution at Watsonville, is badly damaged, but no lives lost.

Bridges between Pajaro and Santa Cruz are badly out.

San Quentin prison is intact. The walls were cracked and a few chimneys were upset, but no farther damage was done. During the first big shock the convicts set up walls that could be heard for a mile. They acted like wild animals and tore at their trembling bars like maniacs. Warden Edgar called out all the guards, lined the walls and released the prisoners into the big yard.

A terrible landslide occurred on Loma Prieta mountain. Nine men were buried alive in their cabins at the Hinckley creek mill of the Loma Prieta Lumber company. The slide came down one side of the canyon and swept over to the other side, returning to bury the saw mill and the cabins in 100 feet of dirt. Another fatal landslide occurred at Deer Creek mill, just above Boulder creek. Two men, John Hannah and James Franklin, were caught in their cabins and killed.

ONE HUNDRED DEAD SANTA ROSA'S LIST.

Ruin of Beautiful Town by Earthquake and Fire is Almost Complete.—Business Section Wiped Out.

Santa Rosa, Cal.—The list of known dead now totals fifty-eight and it is believed that 100 is a very conservative estimate of the number of people who lost their lives in the awful catastrophe which visited this city on Wednesday morning April 18.

The entire business section is in ruins and practically every residence in town is more or less damaged, fifteen or twenty being badly wrecked. The damage to residences, however, was caused principally from the damage to the foundations, which let many structures down into the ground. The brick and stone business blocks, together with the public buildings, were all thrown flat. The court house, hall of records, the Occidental and Santa Rosa hotels, the Athenaeum theatre, new Masonic temple, Odd Fellows' block, all banks—everything went, and in all the city not one brick or stone building is standing except the California Northwestern depot.

Bankers and millionaires are going about with only the few dollars they happened to have in their pockets when the crash came, and are little better off than the laborers who are digging through the debris. Money has practically no value here now, for there is no place to spend it, and this phase of the situation presents its own remedy.

Almost every one here is sleeping out of doors, being afraid to enter their homes except for a short while at a time until repairs have been made. There are plenty of provisions. Some have been supplied by other towns and much has been brought in from the surrounding country. Two entire blocks of buildings also escaped being swept by the flames which immediately broke out in a dozen places at once as soon as the shock was over, and from the tangled ruins of these buildings complete stocks of groceries, clothing, etc., are being dug out and added to the common store.

DEAD AT AGNEW.

Victims in Asylum Number 66 Dead; Many Injured.

Oakland, Cal.—Dr. Clark, superintendent of the San Francisco county hospital, telephoned Oakland concerning the situation at the Agnews insane asylum near San Jose. Dr. Clark said that eleven employees and officers of the institution, including Drs. Kelley and Gell, were killed and twenty injured. Among the patients fifty-five were killed and 120 injured. All the buildings were completely demolished.

Dr. Clark went to Agnews in an automobile, taking four nurses with him, and materially assisted the remaining members of the staff to organize relief measures. Tents have been set up in the grounds of the institution, and the injured, as well as the uninjured, are being cared for. A temporary building is being erected to house the patients until other measures of relief can be taken. Dr. Clark said that there was absolutely no confusion and that he believed all the patients had been accounted for.

FORT BRAGG DESTROYED.

Earthquake, Followed by Fire, Left The Town in Ruins.

Berkeley, Cal.—Private advices received here are to the effect that Fort Bragg, one of the principal lumbering towns of Mendocino county, was almost totally destroyed as the result of a fire following the earthquake.

The bank and other brick buildings were leveled as a result of the tremors and within a few hours fire had completed the work of devastation.

But one person of the 5,000 inhabitants was killed, but scores were injured.

NO TIDAL WAVE.

San Diego Has Not Suffered From the Slight Shock.

San Diego, Cal.—All rumors that there has been a tidal wave or other disaster here are pure inventions. At 4:30 p. m. on Wednesday there was a light shock of earthquake. It did no damage whatever, and was so slight that many people did not feel it. Reports about a disaster to San Diego have been circulated during the past two days, and there is much indignation here over what seems to have been a deliberate attempt to injure the city.

ALAMEDA WAS LUCKY.

No One Was Killed and But Few Buildings Wrecked.

Alameda, Cal.—Although but nine miles from San Francisco, this town did not suffer heavily from the terrible earthquake which caused such havoc in the great city across the bay. Chimneys fell and some buildings were wrecked, notably the Citizen's bank building, but no lives were lost and no one was injured. Alameda people are doing everything in their power to relieve the distress of their neighbors.

Shock Slight at Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal.—A combined request from the municipal officials and all commercial bodies of the city was made Saturday to send out a positive and unequivocal denial of the absurd stories in circulation throughout the east regarding the extent of the earthquake tremor experienced in this city. The shock was very slight and absolutely no damage of any sort resulted. Local officials are receiving inquiries from all parts of the country in reference to it that indicate that extremely erroneous impressions have been received.

Tornados in Ruins.

Oakland, Cal.—A dispatch from San Rafael says: The town of Tornados is a pile of ruins. All of the large stores are flat. The Catholic church, a new stone structure, is also ruined. Many ranch houses and barns are down. Two children, Anita and Peter Courza, were killed in a falling house about a mile from town.

Sacramento is Safe.

Sacramento—Numerous inquiries from the east indicate some widespread belief that Sacramento was partially or completely demolished. Not a dollar's damage was done. Not a crack in a building or a person was injured.

REVOLVER FALLS FROM POCKET.

Los Angeles Physician Shot While Helping Sufferers in San Francisco.

San Francisco.—Dr. Charles F. Taggart of Los Angeles, who had charge of a corps of nurses at the Hearst relief hospital in the Crocker grammar school on Page street near Baker, was instantly killed on Sunday. An automatic revolver dropped out of his pocket. It discharged and the bullet passed through his heart. Dr. Taggart was one of California's most prominent physicians.

Housing the Homeless.

San Francisco.—All the unoccupied buildings in the district that escaped the fire, comprising probably 1,000 vacant flats and houses, have been thrown open to the use of the homeless, and every school building and church considered safe has also been opened and will be used for the same purpose. Hundreds of houses in the unburned district have been deserted by their occupants, who either have fled from the city or are camped in the parks. These also will be used for housing the homeless.

WORKING WOMEN

Their Hard Struggle Made Easier—Interesting Statements by a Young Lady in Boston and One in Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Frankie Orser Miss Pearl Ackers

All women work; some in their homes, some in church, and some in the whirl of society. And in stores, mills and shops tens of thousands are on the never-ceasing treadmill, earning their daily bread.

All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbance, and the nature of their duties, in many cases, quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, tumors, ulceration, falling and displacements or perhaps irregularity or suppression, causing backache, nervousness, irritability and lassitude.

They especially require an invigorating, sustaining medicine which will strengthen the female organism and enable them to bear easily the fatigues of the day, to sleep well at night, and to rise refreshed and cheerful.

How distressing to see a woman struggling to earn a livelihood or perform her household duties when her back and head are aching, she is so tired she can hardly drag about or stand up, and every movement causes pain, the origin of which is due to some derangement of the female organism.

Miss F. Orser, of 14 Warrenton Street, Boston, tells women how to avoid such suffering; she writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—
"I suffered with painful periods, severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and my trouble grew worse every month. I decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I soon found it was doing me good. All my pains and aches disappeared, and I no longer fear my monthly periods."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and displacement with all its horrors will no more crush you.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down pains, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled, and it will make you strong and well.

You can tell the story of your sufferings to a woman, and receive helpful advice free of cost. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. The present Mrs. Pinkham is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty-five years she has, under her direction and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge.

"Some people don't like us."

Appalling Prospect.

A prolific preacher took for his text one Sunday the whole chapter in Revelation about the seven churches in Asia. After he had dealt laboriously for half an hour on three of them, a small boy in the congregation drew a long sigh and whispered to his mother in a stage prompter's voice, "Gee! Four more!"—Lippincott's Magazine.
